The Vakhsh Valley. Tadzhikistan.

The deep Stalin Canal has transformed this valley from a "Land of Death," as it was formerly called, into a fertile area, populated by 20,000 families who migrated here from the surrounding mountains. Cotton harvests here have reached World records since the evolution by Candidate of Agriculture V.P. Krasichkov of a new type of cotton-seed - the "504-VAKHSH" - which was sown on many cotton plantations in the valley last spring with remarkable results.
